

Are you concerned about the health of Asian Americans in our community?

Are you interested in learning about how research can improve health?

Join community organizations & Tufts CTSI for a symposium:
Together: Strengthening the Health of Chinatown

Thursday, April 3, 8:30AM—1:00PM
Asian Community Development Corporation
38 Oak Street, Chinatown, Boston

This exciting forum will include:

- A keynote address by Chau Trinh-Shevrin, DrPH, Director, Center for the Study of Asian American Health, New York University.
- A presentation on the Community Assessment of Freeway Exposure and Health Project (CAFEH).
- Group discussions about building community-research collaborations.
- Networking with community partners, researchers, and clinicians.
- A light breakfast and lunch.

Members of the public, community activists, researchers, clinicians, and students are encouraged to attend. Come for all or part of the event!

To sign up, please visit www.tuftctsi.org or scan the code below.

Greater Boston Chinese Golden Age Center
中華耆英會

Tufts Clinical and Translational Science Institute

